

Harold Leete
Folding Carton & Speciality Print Applications, Industrial Business HP Inc.

Harold Leete is a 30+ year veteran of the Printing and Packaging Industry. His previous rolls include offset press operations, sales and sales management for leading Printing and Folding Carton manufacturers.

As a Product Manager for Folding Carton & Specialty Print applications Harold works directly with the HP sales team in support of product development, sales efforts, customer business needs to include print and finishing applications. He is also an instructor for the Paperboard Packaging Council “PPC” folding carton bootcamp training providing basic introduction to die cutting and currently digital print introduction classes.

Harold is a military veteran having served 4 years active duty in the US Army and 8 years in the US Army National Guard and Army Reserves as an Infantry Non-Commissioned Officer. He served stateside & Europe and attended several Army leadership and professional development training courses during his military career.

